What I believe:

- "I let retired people go to sleep at night. They will not have to worry that if they die too soon, because their families will still be protected. If they should live extremely long, they will not run out of money."
- I differentiate myself because of:
 - my personal service
 - always answering the phone
 - doing what I say I will do
 - being there for my clients both in good times and bad
- "I cannot promise "the" return, but I do promise "I" will return."
- I do not try to be a tax attorney, an accountant, or a lawyer, but I know many of them to refer my clients to, if needed, for financial needs, estate tax needs, living trusts, and other life changing events. I will send you to the experts in these fields with references.
